Gainful Employment Results as Outlined Under U.S. Department of Education Accountability Metrics	On July 1, 2019, the U.S. Department of Education published a new gainful employment (GE) rule in the Federal Register (the “2019 GE Rule”). The 2019 GE Rule rescinds the existing GE regulation, which was promulgated on October 31, 2014, and is located at 34 C.F.R. Part 668, Subpart Q and Subpart R (the “2014 GE Rule). Additional information regarding ACHS graduate outcomes is published in the College Scorecard available online at https://collegescorecard.ed.gov/school/?443599-American-College-of-Healthcare-Sciences .
State Licensing Requirements	This certificate program does not provide training that leads to licensure. This program provides graduates with useful skills that may enhance a current career path or offer opportunity to work in the holistic health community, however, graduation from this program does not convey any sort of license to practice. Licensing requirements for homeopathy professionals vary widely by state. There may be licensing, membership and/or registration options in the industry and in your state. The National Center for Homeopathy provides information about regulatory requirements online at http://www.homeopathycenter.org/practicing-homeopathy. Additionally, homeopathy professionals should be cautious in claiming to treat, diagnose, or cure any illness, because doing so may be considered practicing medicine without a license and a violation of State Medical Practice Acts. Prior to enrollment, students are solely responsible for confirming that the certificate, diploma or degree program in which they enroll will meet their personal and career objectives.
